DOES YOUR GROUP HAVE A VOICE?

GENERAL SERVICE REPRESENTATIVE (GSR)

"The general service representatives (G.S.R.s) of the U.S. and Canada are the very foundation of our general service structure. Through your G.S.R., you can make your group's voice heard at district meetings, at area assemblies, and eventually at the General Service Conference."

~~~~~
For more information about GSRs, see A.A.® leaflet:

G.S.R. Your group's link to A.A. as a whole

"For a new general service representative, this leaflet outlines responsibilities and useful sources of information; for a group, what to keep in mind when electing a G.S.R."

Contribution By Others...

A.A. In The Military

World War II broke out early in the history of Alcoholics Anonymous, and members were confronted with staying sober through that difficult experience. Since then, A.A.s in the Armed Services have experienced and shared powerful stories. Their willingness to go to any length directly contributed to the growth of A.A. worldwide as they sought to help other alcoholics and maintain their own sobriety. Their efforts with the professional community (commanders, chaplains, doctors) and the public (newspapers, fellow service members) serve as a powerful example of the spirit of A.A.s under extremely trying circumstances.

On December 7, 1941, the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor and the United States entered the most widespread war in history. Bill W. and other early members (an estimated 300 in all) sought to return to uniformed service during the course of the conflict. A.A. requested and was granted special permission for additional gas rations in order to perform Twelfth Step work.

Roger W. wrote in Markings 35(1):2-3 (Spring 2015) about A.A. in the military, from 1994 to 2015. He wrote that one of the goals of A.A. Grapevine as it first began was the idea of sharing news from home with the boys overseas. The first issue, in June 1944, contained a feature entitled "Mail Call for All A.A.s in the Armed Forces," which ran through the end of the war, after which the title was changed to "Mail Call for A.A.s at Home and Abroad."

Grapevine

- Early 1944 World War II was in full swing.
- One of original concepts of the new publication was a means to communicate with A.A. members serving overseas
- One whole page was dedicated to this cause and titled "Mail Call For All Armed Forces"
- Members of the Armed Forces began calling the Grapevine their "meeting in print."
- The title stuck, and today the Grapevine and La Viña carry it on their covers.
- The war ended in 1945. Starting with the September 1945 issue, "Mail Call for All AAs in the Armed Forces" became "Mail Call for All AAs at Home or Abroad"

The first A.A. group on a military base was begun in March of 1945 with the Jefferson Barracks Group at the U.S. Disciplinary Barracks in Missouri. Soon similar groups started on Governor's Island, N.Y., and at U.S. Army Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco. A.A. developed in West Germany after the war as a direct result of the efforts of servicemen abroad. By 1948, there were groups in Bremen, Frankfurt, and Munich; the first European Roundup was held in Wiesbaden in 1952.

A.A. growth in the Pacific was also fostered by a U.S. military presence. By 1953 there were servicemen's groups registered in Japan, Korea, Okinawa and Hawaii. To serve transient members, the Tokyo Group began a newsletter; by 1967, the Tokyo Group had nine meetings a week and held the first known Roundup in the Far East, featuring speakers in both English and Japanese.

The war in Korea saw A.A. members again seeking other alcoholics. As early as 1950, servicemen stationed in South Korea wrote to Grapevine, grateful for any contact by mail. By 1952, Ann M., Foreign Group Secretary at the General Service Office, had connected 15 A.A.s on the Korean Peninsula. As A.A.s rotated home or were deployed to Korea, they found each other because Ann M. knew something about the country that the generals didn't—the location of other A.A.s.

The first Grapevine article from Vietnam appeared in 1966, featuring the story of "perpetual private" T.C.F., who had been reduced in rank several times because of his drinking, but who was four years sober at the time of his writing. Grapevine continued to capture military Loner stories, like that of the sailor who celebrated his 5th A.A. birthday in Newport, R.I., after spending his first four anniversaries at sea. In 1966, a Loner shared about using a military "hot line" to reach members around the world.

With so many members in the Armed Forces, publication of the 1974 pamphlet "A.A. and the Armed Services," containing ten personal stories, was inevitable. The form it took was shaped by the 1971 General Service Conference Literature Committee, which recommended that the pamphlet be written so as to ensure that it reached every rank of soldier who might have a drinking problem. The pamphlet was revised in 1981 and again in 2003 and 2012.

Many A.A.s were among those deployed to the Persian Gulf during Desert Storm in 1990-91; these were sustained by cards and letters sent by members around the country. Following the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, A.A. members answered the call to military service and stayed sober in Iraq and Afghanistan. Soldiers abroad could now take advantage of new technology that included Skype, online meetings, and stable voice communication, all powerful tools for helping themselves and their fellow alcoholics.

Alcoholics Anonymous continues to honor its members in the military. At the 2010 International Convention in San Antonio, a panel meeting called "A.A. in the Military" included three members who had stayed sober while in uniform. Even more (including family members and USO volunteers) were in the audience and shared their experience, strength and hope. And in 2014 the International Conference of Young People in Alcoholics Anonymous (ICYPAA) hosted a program focusing on "being of service while serving your country."

Grapevine released a book entitled AA in the Military with stories from the Grapevine about A.A. member experiences in the military from 1944 to 2015, from W.W. II to Korea to Desert Storm. In MSCA Area 09 <<https://area9btg.org/>> and District 06 Veterans Bridging the Gap <<http://www.vetsbtg.org/>> has a website to help Bridge the Gap for veterans or those who serve from treatment into A.A.

Throughout A.A. history, members have served honorably in the military while staying sober and helping to spread the message of sobriety around the world.
