The Little Big Book Dictionary-Gold Edition-April 2009

CONCEPTS: 4 THRU 6

“At all responsible levels, we ought to maintain a traditional “Right of Participation”, allowing a voting representation in reasonable proportion to the responsibility that each must discharge.”

5.

Short Form:

“Throughout our structure, a traditional “Right of Appeal” ought to prevail, so that minority opinion will be heard and personal grievances receive careful consideration.”

Short Form:

“The Conference recognizes that the chief initiative and active responsibility in most world service matters should be exercised by the trustee members of the Conference acting as the General Service Board.”

MINORITY (Concept #5): “the smaller number or part, especially a number that is less than half the whole number / a smaller party or group opposed to a majority, as in voting or other action / a group in society distinguished from, and less dominant than, the more numerous majority”

AA To Observe Founders Day

AKRON, June 11 (UP) — More than 1,500 men and women from all over the United States will gather in Goodyear Theater Sunday at 2:30 p. m. to celebrate the 20th anniversary of an organization which has given them a new lease on life—Alcoholic Anonymous.

Here in 1935 AA was founded by the late Dr. Robert H. Smith, known as "Dr. Bob," and Bill W., of New York City, a former broker.

Since that time, Akron has developed into the nerve center of the AA movement which encompasses more than 200,000 members in the Western Hemisphere, Europe and Australia.

Poetry.

FAREWELL TO JOHN BARLEYCORN.

John Barleycorn my Joe John,
 My true but fearful friend,
 With you I've fought for many a year,
 But all things have an end.
 Farewell to you John Barleycorn,
 I bid you now adieu,
 And should we ever meet again,
 I'll not acknowledge you.

John Barleycorn my Joe John,
 We've roamed the streets at night.
 Seen many a little pretty row,
 And many a bloody fight.
 We've also slept together John,
 Upon the market stall,
 And often in the gutter John,
 We've surely had a fall.

John Barleycorn my Joe John,
 I wish to show you how
 You play your tricks upon your friends,
 Poor souls they know not how.
 Come look into the gutter John,
 There's two legs and There's four,
 They lie upon each other John,
 For you are there no more.

John Barleycorn my Joe John,
 You always look so meek,
 I cannot help admiring you,
 Despite your bloated cheek.
 Your trembling nerves, your bloodshot eye,
 Your breath uneven drawn,
 Your watchful care to get a drink
 Whenever it is dawn.

John Barleycorn my Joe John,
 When we were first acquaint,
 "My locks were like the raven,"
 But you on death were bent.
 Here now we part John Barleycorn,
 My old unworthy friend,
 I bid you now a last adieu,
 For all things have an end.

THE WORRY CLINIC

Evil Influence of John Barleycorn Told

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

Who is to blame for Beth's tragic home life? Don't say it is just her Dad! A lot of you parents would be shocked if you took a secret poll of your own children concerning your parental habits. Here in Chicago we have twice as many taverns as churches! Which one caused Beth's unhappiness?

Case J-391: Beth G., aged 14, is a very bright high schooler. "Dr. Crane, I have a serious problem," she began, miserably, "and I hope you can help me."

"It's my Daddy. He is a wonderful man, most of the time. But he likes to drink. And then he gets so drunk he doesn't know what he is doing."

"Last week he beat my mother till she was black and blue. Then he turned on me and struck me in the eye."

"He also called me vile names that were not true, and said I was immoral with boys and other bad things like that."

"But when he is sober, he is a wonderful Daddy. So how can I help him leave alcohol alone?"

Why Men Drink

Men start drinking for various reasons. Often in the teens they do it because our youth have been led to think it is a sign of a he-man to swill down liquor.

Modern high-pressure advertising has also stampeded many supposedly intelligent women into serving alcoholic drinks to "keep up with the Joneses" and appear socially sophisticated.

Some European national groups have been accustomed to beer or wine as a table beverage, and hence still use it after they migrate to modern America.

Regardless of how one starts the liquor habit, it is a very dangerous thing, for each drink reduces one's judgment and reaction time.

Coffee and tea, orange juice and milk, soda pop and similar American beverages do not reduce one's mental alertness.

John Barleycorn is thus a very evil influence, not only on our high speed automobile highways, but in American homes, as Beth's case so tragically illustrates.

For an unhappy person will drink to fog his intelligence until he can forget. As his intelligence is anesthetized, he becomes temporarily feeble-minded and soon is a moron.

That's when Beth's father attacked her mother and, struck Beth in the eye. That's when he accused his innocent daughter of immorality.

Moreover, a drunkard's accusations often mirror his own mind. Besides, when your I.Q. is reduced to the moron level, you forget the products of your education, including mathematics, chemical formulae and ethics.

So a drunkard will commit crimes and act as stupidly as a child in kindergarten.

Many sober folks laugh at the silly antics of the drunkards, but the situation is no laughing matter.

For every inebriate represents a human personality that has been temporarily reduced to the level of a hog or wolf or other selfish brute.

Cure for Liquor

The cure is varied. Prophylaxis is best, which means never take the first drink. That's being stressed by the Alcoholics Anonymous organization.

The A.A. (Alcoholics Anonymous) is doing a great job of restoring chronic drunkards to happy home life once more.

Tomorrow I'll give you specific methods for correcting drunkenness, but you teen-agers should remember that it is never smart to use liquor, even though your elders may have been stampeded by modern liquor ads to think otherwise.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.)

Local AAs To Note Birthday

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS, which started in Merced six years ago with 14 members, will celebrate its sixth anniversary this June with more than 40 regular members.

Although the celebration will be quiet, it will be the most sober celebrating many of them have done in recent years, thanks to AA's part in their daily lives.

Through total abstinence, although agreeing at first to leave liquor alone only "One-Day-At-A-Time," many of these charter members have been on the wagon 2,190 days.

DESPITE THIS, they aren't fooling themselves. They are still only "one drink away from being alcoholics" all over again.

The secret, be there one, has been steadfast refusal to take that first drink that leads the alcoholic on the sleighride some label the "Tokay Express" or "Muscatel Special."

This group, which has a common bond of sobriety, now meets two and three times a week at headquarters in a structure at 19th and N Streets.

Quietly and humbly, they recount their past experiences, most of them nightmares, with "John Barleycorn" at meetings held at 8 p.m., each Wednesday and Friday, and 2 p.m., Sundays, attempting to retain their sobriety.

WHAT BROUGHT THEM to AA's doorstep in search of help might be a variety of things — loss of home, family, job, or a deep-rooted fear of losing all. But these aren't the men or women you find on "Skid Road" since they have admitted defeat at the hands of alcohol; the "Skid Roaders" are still trying to beat the odds.

To the AA member, his sobriety is the most important thing in life — held high above consideration of family, home, job or friends. Without that sobriety he realizes he will lose all.

This is not, it is frequently stressed, an organization for moderate, or so-called "social drinkers," but extends a friendly hand to those who take one drink at Christmas, wake up at Easter and wonder what happened New Year's Eve.

...FELLOWSHIP MEMBER CONTRIBUTION...

I Found My Bottom in My Wife's Old Blue Jeans

The beers I've had for breakfast, could fill a swimming pool
What I once thought was lipstick, I now admit was drool
One more morning after, still nightly fills my dreams
But I knew I had a problem, when I found my bottom, in my wife's old blue jeans

I'd pour liquor in a beer can, so the cops wouldn't see me drink
I'd drive backwards from the bar, trying to see who's following me
Eating breakfast before bedtime, left me full of hungry dreams
But I assumed I had a problem, when I found my bottom, in my wife's old blue jeans

I would get sloppy drunk, drinking whiskey, neat
I would drink whiskey sours, 'til they started tasting sweet
Empty bottles strewn behind, go for miles and in between
I never saw a problem, 'til I found my bottom, in my wife's old blue jeans

It took three cops to dress me, in her faded overhauls
Barefooted and shirtless, they threw me against the wall
Said the winos and the addicts: You beat all we've ever seen
Sitting in a blackout, with your butt out, your wife's old blue jeans

She's a hundred pounds lighter, a foot shorter than I am
Hanging out in jail, I resembled Lady Godiva in a traffic jam
Of all the crazy things I've done, 'tis the craziest, it seems
Spending that night in jail, sitting on my tail, in my wife's old blue jeans

When they hauled me off to jail, my butt was hanging out
When my wife went my bail, she knew without a doubt
She wanted back her drawers, 'n' I beat all she'd ever seen
And she claimed I had a problem, when she found my bottom, in her old blue jeans

I'll not soon forget, that night I spent in jail
Though it hasn't happened yet, yet may still prevail
Lightning don't strike twice, if you stay out of the rain
Life ain't too damned nice, living addicted to the pain
